CLASSES ABOLISHED

IMPORTANT CHANGE MADE BY THE LEAGUE OF WHEELMEN.

All Cycle Riders Now in the Same Category as Other Athletes and Sportsmen-Class B Eliminated.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 12.-All classes heretofore recognized by the League of American Wheelmen were abolished at to-day's session of the national convention, and cycle riders are now in exactly the same category as are all other athletes and sportsmen. In future the league will recognize no grades of amateurs, and any rider who does not live strictly up to the rules governing nonprofessionel sport will be placed in the ranks of the professionals. This result was reached by the repeal of all the clauses in the league constitution creating Classes A and B and defining the status of the men who formerly belonged to them. The convention took this radical step during its afternoon session, while considering a large number of amendments to the constitution proposed by the racing board and designed to further regulate and define the positions of Class B men. There were a dozen or more of these amendments, and several of them had been adopted when Mr. Mott, of this city, offered an amendment abolishing Class B entirely. It was carried almost without a dissenting voice, if, indeed, there were any, and the chair decided that it was unanimous. A resolution was then adopted to the effect that all members of the league who are at this time Class B men shall in future be treated as amateurs, similar in every respect to Class A men, and that all others shall be deemed professionals. The penalty for any act of professionalism will, therefore, in the future be practical expulsion from the league. The result gave the most general satisfaction.

The other important steps of the day were the offer and acceptance of a proposition from Consul Isaac B. Potter, of New York, to submit to arbitration his lawsuit against the L. A. W., growing out of the publication of the Bulletin, and which has long been pending in the New York courts, and the refusal of the league to abandon control of racing. More than half of the proposed amendments to the constitution were disposed of when the convention adarned to-night to attend the theater party at Ford's Opera House, and there is no doubt that it will conclude its operations to-morrow. Many of the delegates have al-ready left for home, and it is not likely that to-morrow's attendance will be large.

A motion was adopted authorizing the president to appoint a committee to draft solutions to be presented to the various gislatures declaring bicycles to be personal baggage. The seventy-four amendments to the constitution were then taken up The first amendment considered was that proposed by Mr. Potter, of New York, to trike out of Article 1, Section 2, the words "and to promote and regulate cycle racing on the track." Mr. Potter, in discussing this question, created simething of an uproar by making the assertion that there were "not enough honest, clean, amateur tcycle racers in this country to make a respectable meet." Sterling Elliott, the new president-elect, opposed the amendment. J. R. Roosevelt, of New York, advocated it, as did also J. B. Townsend, of the same State. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 135 to 40. An amendment proding that divisions, subdivisions and consulates shall be discontinued whenever the membership falls below twenty-five and all membership falls below twenty-nive and all moneys belonging to them pass to the league was adopted, as was also another providing that all memberships shall ex-pire one year from the publication of the application in the official organ. Amend-ments providing that membership may be renewed and that the penalties for lapses in dues shall in no case exceed $1 for a full year were adopted.

The delegates during the noon intermis sion had been photographed, and, after tak-ing up and disposing of the amendments offered by Chairman Gideon, of the racing board, as previously mentioned, considered the other amendments in the order in which they were offered. The most imortant of those adopted were as follows: Providing that an amateur shall not compete in any race outside his own State at a greater distance than one hundred miles the usual line or route from his legal dence, except at national, or division, or closed college championship meetings, or except by special permission from the member of the racing board in charge of his listrict; making the chairman of the auditng committee a member of the national sembly; fixing the date for the annua neetings of the league for the second Wednesday in February, instead of the sec ond Monday; providing that the place of annual meeting shall be determined by the national assembly, unless delegated to the executive committee; providing that division secretary-treasurers shall hold office until removed by the board of officers; adding to the list of national committees that of "local organization." Adjournment was then had until 9 o'clock to-morrow

New York Mail and Express. Thomas B. Reed is too big a man, to ionest a man, too independent a man to permit his honered name to become the laything of a gang of scheming politicians. peaker Reed can hardly be ignorant of the purposes of Platt and Quay in their frequent conferences, and common report, if not direct information, must have conveyed to him the intelligence that he is the roposed beneficiary of the dickers of the Governor Morton seems to be blind to the fact that Platt's pretended adherence to his cause is only that the wily schemer may secure a solid delegation to turn over to Reed. Speaker Reed, however, ought to know that a man who has been treacherous to Morton will be treacherous to him also when the time comes for him to spurn the proposition that he pledge himself to make Mr. Platt Secretary of the Treasury. There is not the slightest doubt that such a proposition will be brought, di-rectly or indirectly, to Speaker Reed before the St. Louis convention, and no one who understands the inflexible integrity of the Maine statesman doubts that he wi reat the despicable proffer as Harrison did in 1888, and as McKinley did in 1855. SPECTATORS ALSO IN PERIL

THE RURALES WILL MAKE NO DIS-TINCTION IF ORDERED TO FIRE.

Dan Stuart Still Confident Authorities on Both Sides of the Rio Grande Can Be Outwitted.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 12.-There was a conference to-day between Adjutant-general Mabry, of Texas, Governor Ahumada, of Chihuahua, and the United States marshals, and it is practically plain that they have an understanding as to what each will do toward preventing the Maher-Fitzsimmons and lesser fights. The Governor is still bringing troops into Juarez and by to-morrow night will be strength to begin war if necessary. He has three hundred men, two hundred of whom are "rurales," the flower of the Mexican army, and by to-morrow night will have two hundred more. He declared to-day that under no circumstances would he allow the fight to take place in Mexico. "I will prevent it by force if necessary," he said, "but I hope it will not come to that, but if it does I shall use force."

"Will you shoot them down?" "If men come into Mexico and intend to break the law they will be arrested, and if they resist arrest they will be shot. That's all there is to that matter." The Governor added that newspaper corresponleats and other spectators will be "regarded as prize fighters," and that bullets might strike the newspaper fraternity as well as the spectators. "I don't think much of prize fighting anyhow," said the Governor. "I went over to El Paso last night and saw two colored men box (Dixon and Walcott) and I do not like it half as well as I thought I should from what I have heard about it."

"The chances of the fight coming off are good, however, despite the declaration of the Governor of Chihughua and the American officials," calmly insists Stuart, "according to schedule." And there is no doubt that he is making every effort and will continue up to the last minute to do his utmost to bring it off. He insists that everything is realy and that no interruption will be forthcoming. The all-pervading fear of the law which has possessed Fitzsimmons ever since he became entangled with it for killing Con Riordan at Syracuse may make him take the stand he took at Little Rock last fall-no fight unless absolute protection is guaranteed him, although he has kept quiet on that point up to date. Fitzsimmons is in the test of condition and capable of making the fight of his life. He has eased up a little in his work and is only taking enough exercise to keep himself in good condition He weighed 163 pounds to-day and probably will enter the ring very close to that figure.

CONDITION OF THE MEN. Reports from Las Cruces are to the effect that Maher has completed his training and also is in excellent shape. It is expected he and his party will leave the training quarters to-morrow and come to El Paso, where he can be ready to start for the battleground at a moment's notice. The pugilists of less note are hard at work. It is generally conceeded that the big fight will be a test case and the fates of the others are to some extent dependent on the fortune that follows the participants in the big battle. Dixon has let up considerably in his work. He is down rather fine and is afraid to train hard for fear of overdoing it. Walcott is above weight and is trying to work off three or four obstinate pounds that still cling to him. Everhardt, Leeds, Barry and Murphy are all ready to fight any time. Barry in particular is in good shape and if Murphy wins over him he must work for his life.

Fitzsimmons went to the bicycle races this afternoon and about five thousand enthusiasts saw him ride around the track on a Al Smith, the well-known sporting man of

New York, arrives to-morrow. He will represent Corbett at the ringside, but he will issue no challenges. However, if any deflances are hurled at the erstwhile champion he will be prepared to answer them.

Manuel Bauche, the Mexican collector of ustoms at Juarez, said to-day: "If the fighters bring any tents or ropes into Mexico they will be smuggling and, in addition to what they may suffer from the military authorities, they are liable to six months in jail. The only way they can avoid this is by coming across the bridge between El Paso and Juarez and, of course, they won't caught, we can do not but we're looking for them to smuggle their stuff across if they fight in Mexico and we will punish them if we can catch them.' The Mexican troops arrived in Juarez this morning at 8 o'clock and, after taking two hours to rest up and feed their horses, they were sent by Governor Ahumada to patrol the river bank. An island in the Rio Grande which is disputed territory the Governor directed should be occupied by his men, with instructions to allow no fight upon it. John L. Sullivan and Paddy Ryan, both in charge of Parson Davies, arrived this morning. Sullivan was none the worse for his recent acrobatic performance in connection with a flying railroad train and expressed himself as anxious to see the fight and was confident that it would be pulled off. "I do not know who will win. It's a toss up. I would like to see Peter come out on top, but it is pretty much : question as to who gets in the first hard lick. If either man cap get in a good stiff one on the jaw early in the game the chances are that this man will win out. It is a hard pick and no cinch either way."

FITZSIMMONS SCARED. Late this afternoon Adjutant-general Mabry gave Fitzsimmons a scare that sent the lanky Australian to Stuart with his eyes hanging out. General Mabry called at Fitzsimmons's quarters in Juarez and informed him that no matter where he went, no matter where the fight took place, some of the State rangers would be with him. If he attempted to fight on Texas soil, rangers, General Mabry declared, would at once open fire and pay the principals in the fight the distinguished honor of trying to kill them first of all. Fitzsimmons at once hurried over to El Paso and declared his antipathy to being shot and demanded absolute protection, without which he would not fight at all. He and Stuart held a long conversation, and at its close Fitzsimmons mounted his wheel, and with apparently easy mind, started to his quarters, saying he is satisfied to take the

of Chihuahua, has a large force of men at work establishing a line between New Mexico and Mexico. In that region there is a stretch of territory which is in dispute between the United States and Mexico. The line is for the benefit of the Mexican soldiers. It was agreed at the late conference on Tuesday evening that the survey should be made so that if the fighters sought the disputed tract the Mexican troops might know just how far they could proceed. A further conference was held in Juarez to-day, at which there were present Governor Ahumada, of Chihuahua; Mayor Arriola, of Juarez; Colonel Tavarez, Collector Bouche and other Mexican officers: Deputy United States Marshal Ware, Texas: Deputy United States Marshal Hall of New Mexico: Governor Culberson, of Texas: United States Attorney Culberson and Adjutant-general Mabry, of Texas. It was agreed that the two forces should cooperate in preventing the fight. The United States marshals declared they would not cross the border after the fighters. though Governor Ahumada declared should raise no objections if they did. The Governor of Chihuahua declared that while the officers of the United States were s no disputing the fact that Thomas C. welcome to cross the line into his baili-latt is for all the presidential candidates wick, the Mexican forces would stop at the the Old Man of the Sea, and that the canmade no question, as the crossing of the line might result in complications. A cable was received to-day from the National Sporting Club of London offering a purse of £1,500 for a fight between Fitzsimmons and Maher, and allowing each £100 for training expenses. This offer stands in case no fight is pulled off. General Mabry informed Dan Stuart to-night that when the train, flatboat or balon, or whatever it is to be that is to convey the pugilists from this city to the battle ground pulled out, he would be there without a ticket and all his rangers would attend the fight. Stuart readily acquiesced, saying that he was willing they should go along and keep him out of Texas. It is needless to say the rangers will all be there. Some of them want to start

The restrictions relative to Company H and the rest of the soldiers of the reguar army came from Washington by way of San Antonio early this morning, and they are that no man is to leave the post until such permission is received from Washington. There are at Fort Bliss 250 infantrymen of the Fifteenth Regiment and five troops of the Fifth cavalry.

May Fight in Arizona. PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 12.-Maj. R. Allyn Lewis, commanding the Second Battalion of the United States army, wires from Bowie that he has positive information that the Maher-Fitzsimmons fight is to be brought off to-morrow or to-morrow night within Arizona lines. This morning Governor Hughes ordered to eastern Arizona three companies of militia, two from Tucson and one from Yuma. They will be held at Bowie or San Simon, where commissary positions are available. Companies at Nogales, Phoenix, Tempe and Nesa were also instructed to prepare for active service at once. Each company must report twenty-five men for active duty. The Governor has telegraphed Major Lewis to prevent at all hazards the passage of persons to engage in a prize fight, as they will be implicated in a conspiracy to commit a felony. This evening the Governor wired the Southern Pacific company that he is informed an attempt will be made to bring off the fight in Arizona and urging the company not to become accessories

MISSISSIPPI DEMOCRATS WANT HIM TO RUN FOR PRESIDENT.

Ex-Governor Pattison, of Pennsylvania, Is Also Asked to Offer Himself as a Sacrifice.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 12.-The Whitney presidential managers express themselves to-night as having accomplished results beyond anything they expected when they decided on a Whitney campaign in this State. The petitions have been signed by leading influential men from every section and party faction in the State. They have the leading business and professional men of the State capital, including the Mayor and city officials, three-fourths of the Legislature and finally the new State administration, except Governor McLaurin, who was for obvious reasons, not importuned, but whose close friends are actively enlisted in the measure. The call on Mr. W. C. Whitney to enter the race for the Democratic presidential nomination is as

"While we, the undersigned Mississippi Democrats, recognize the necessity of financial and other reforms in this country, it s evident that such reforms can only be had through Democratic administration of the federal government. If the ancient foe of the South-the Republican party-gets control of the general government in the next be enacted that will entrench that party in power and perpetuate it for a generation to come. As applied to the present situation, we recommend to our political brotherhood throughout the country a spirit of conservatism and concession on the great political issues of the day as the only true basis for unity and harmony and success to the great political party to which we belong. Let it not be forgotten-it must never be forgotten-that the city halls of the Eastern and New England States were the scenes during the past twenty-five years of those heroics debates and intellectual conflicts which resulted in political justice with supremacy, local self-government and the material advancement of the Southern people. Recognizing in the Hon. W. C. Whitney, of the Empire State of New York, a typical American, a patriot of unquestioned loyalty to his country, a man of tact and affairs in the highest sense of the terms-a statesman of broad and enlightened views-one of the purest and most glorious among Northern Democrats, we therefore call on you to allow your name to go before the next Democratic national convention as a candidate do that. If they get in and out again for the presidential nomination, believing nomination will unify and enthuse the Democratic party throughout the country and insure the election of its ticket." This call will be forwarded to Mr. Whitney at once.

Pennsylvania Democrats Will Support the Ex-Governor for President. HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 12.-The Pattison boom for the presidency was launched with much enthusiasm to-day at the meeting of the State Democratic committee to arrange for the next State convention. The meeting was largely attended and the sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of the nomination of ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison for President by the national convention at Chicago. A resolution indorsing his candidacy was offered by John M. Carman.

"Resolved, That the Democratic State central committee recommend that the Democracy of Pennsylvania present to the Democratic national convention the name of ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison as that of a strong and available candidate for the pres idency. In character, in ability, in official experience, in the fearful and fearless discharge of public duties, Mr. Pattison is well equipped for the high office for which we recommend him. Enjoying to the fullest extent the confidence of the people because of his steadfast adherence to the cause of good government his selection as the standard bearer of the Democratic party would be met by generous and enthusiastic approval. Sound in Democratic principles, his eadership would be such that all-time Democrats might safely follow. A SENSATIONAL LAMB

TRIES TO PRECIPITATE A MISTRIAL IN THE KELLER CASE.

Judge Will Give the Case to the Jury This Morning-Flames Sweep the Town of Waterloo.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 12. - This was the most exciting day of the Keller-Shanks trial, and for a few minutes in the afternoon it looked as if the trial would be brought to an end without the jury being permitted to render a verdict. Mr. Lamb, who has said that the defense was willing to leave the case with the jury on the evidence for the prosecution, grasped desperately at an alleged error, caused by a slip of the tongue on the part of Mr. Simms in his argument, and moved that the jury be discharged. Either he earnestly hoped for a favorable ruling by Judge Taylor or effect on the jury.

Trustworthy reports from Fountain and Parke counties are to the effect that if the jury return a verdict of acquittal and the defendants return to their home, on the border of the two counties, they will be in danger of rough treatment. Lynch talk is very common up that way.

The people there believe the defense has been securing an advantage in the trial. After the ruling by Judge Taylor on Mr. Simms's slip the lawyer proceeded with his argument and closed before 5 o'clock. Judge Taylor will instruct the jury tomorrow morning.

Mr. Lamb made the closing speech for the defense, and it developed into a personal attack on attorney Simms, of Covington, a man whom Lamb wanted to get even with on an old score. Lamb had insulted Simms the other day in court, and lawyers had to rush between them. Lamb's attack this morning was excused by the fact that Mr. Simms had taken the witness stand and testified to the identity of the blood-stained pieces of wood and Dan Keller's trousers, which were sent to Dr. Gelss, of Indianapolis. It was felt by the | sioners of Rush county have adopted an orprosecution that this was a very unfair | der for the issuance of $160,000 5 per cent. attack, because Mr. Lamb knew that the only reason Mr. Simms took the stand made to mature at the rate of $10,000 per was because Sheriff Moore, of Fountain | year every year until all are paid off. The county, was taken ill and could not conclude his testimony in establishing this identity. After Mr. Simms had testified to the one fact Mr. Lamb cross-examined him and was thoroughly worsted. To the surprise of all lawyers he asked Mr. Simms for his theory of the murder and was greatly put out when Simms gave it. The attack to-day was a characteristic Lamb proceeding, and outside of his following he is severely criticised by citizens. The common comment is that it was a cowardly act. The interest in the verdict increase as it is more generally recognized that it is also to affect Lamb's prestige in litigation here. A lawyer from another city, who had been observing him ogling the jury and smiling and nodding approval of testimony favorable to his side, remarked that if he should cut such capers in his town "the judge would send him out of he court room Here is an example of Mr. Lamb's peuliar manner of dealing with evidence.

than a mile" from Keller's house to the pool, to show that Keller could not have carried the body of a girl weighing "145 bounds" that distance. The distance is a half mile, and the testimony was that the girl weighed 130 pounds. Lamb was accused of cowardice in leaving the room as soon as he had finished and while Mr. Simms was on the floor. About o'clock he returned, breaking into Mr. Simms's speech, and called for a dismissal of the case, or at least of Dan Keller. Mr. Simms had reviewed the testimony to the effect that on the day Clara Shanks disappeared a number of the Keller relatives were at Dan Keller's house, but had left before dinner because they were afraid they might be poisoned if they remained to dinner. The speaker had said that if they were not afraid of being poisoned by Dan Keller in his attempt to poison his jealous wife, the defense failed to prove the fact, and asked why these relatives had not been placed on the witness stand to explain why they left the house. He started to name the nine persons who left the house and had said: "John Keller, George Keller, Dan Keller"—when Mr. Lamb excitedly said, "Stop right there," and, jumping to his feet, said, "This has gone far enough." Judge Taylor, who was out preparing his instructions to the jury, came in and denied Lamb's motion to dismiss the case. Mr. Simms explained that it was a slip of the tongue that caused him to mention Dan Keller's name. Lamb vehemently protested that the case had come to an end. The court ruled against him and permitted the defense ALTON, Ill., Feb. 12.—In a letter received Hennessey is continued." here this week by his father, William Sachtleben, the young St. Louis wheelman who left about a year ago to unravel the mystery of the death of Frank J. Lenz, the lost Pittsburg cyclist, and subsequently to bring his murderers to justice, states that he will leave Armenia just as soon as he can conveniently get away, a few weeks hence. He says that the trial of the murderers, who are still retained, is nominally in progress, but that it is the biggest kind of farce. There is an evident desire, he states, to fix the guilt for the crime upo the Armenian prisoners, who are known to have been innocent parties to the conspiracy that cost Lenz his life, and who were arrested and retained for the evidence that they could give. The writer bitterly denounces the venality of the officers of the courts of justice in that land.

BIENNIAL CONGRESS OF THE NA-TIONAL ASSOCIATION.

President Johnson Re-Elected and Boards of Appeals Appointed-Several Changes in Rules.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.-The National

Trotting Association held its seventeenth biennial congress to-day at the Murray Hill Hotel. Major P. P. Johnston, the president, presided. Representatives were present from trotting associations all over the United States. After the roll call had been disposed of, President Johnston appointed Charles H. Page, of Pennsylvania; C. F. Emery, of Ohio; R. L. Allen, of Illinois; H. E. Willis, of Massachusetts, and J. C. Simpson, of California, a committee of five to select candidates for the office of president, first and second vice presidents, and fifteen members of the board of appeals, which is the governing body of the association. This committee retired to parlor H, and during its absence Secretary Tipton, of the committee on rules, read to the members the changes that had been made by his committee in the rules of the association. He was interrupted by the speedy return to the committee of five, who, through their chairman, Mr. Page, announced the following ticket: President, P. P. Johnston, Lexington, Ky.; first vice president, David Bonner, of New York; second vice president, N. T. Smith, of Menlo Park, Cal. Members of board of appeals or district boards: Eastern district-John E. Thayer, Boston; M. M. Morse, Hartford, Conn.; Charles Dana Palmer, Lowell, Mass. Atlantic District-George W. Archer, Rochester, N. Y.; J. C. Sibley, Franklin, Pa., and Frank Bowen, Philadelphia, Pa. Central District-Van L. Kirkman, Nashville, Tenn.; William Edwards, Cleveland, O.; William Russell Allen, St. Louis, Mo. Western District-N. C. Blake, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; John L. Mitchell, Milwaukee, Wis., and Dr. I. S. Gorton, Chicago. Pacific District-E. R. Field, A. P. Spreckels and C. M. Chase, all of San Francisco. Considerable discussion arose over the substitute of the name of General Alexander Harbison instead of Mr. Morse on the Eastern district board, the latter being unwilling to serve. The matter was finally adjusted by General Harbison saying he would not serve and moving that Mr. Morse be unanimously elected. The chairman then presented the above ticket before the house and it was unanimously elected. Both Mr. Johnston and Mr. Bonner were re-elected to their respective offices, Mr. Smith supplanting Frank L. Coombs, of Napa, Cal., as second vice president. Chairman Johnson ordered Mr. Tipton to proceed with the reading of the revised rules and regulations. That portion of Section 2 of Rule 1 which provided that an entry by telephone must be reduced to writing was eliminated from the rules, as it was thought this has resulted in the past in irregular practices and left a door open to collusion between the secretary of a course and an owner.

There was considerable discussion on the proposed change in Section 1 of Rule 4, regarding the number of entries, the last three ines being cut out, but a clause which provided that any association deviating from the rule regarding the number of entries for a purse must live up to the rule or the race be declared off. Sections 6 and 7 of Rule 4, which provides for the naming of a horse to be trotted in a public race, were cut out entirely as these sections are covered fully by Section 5 of this rule. Section 2 of Rule 14, regarding fraudulent entries or meddling with horses was modified to make the penalty for a fraudulent entry of a horse "fined, sus-pended or expelled," instead of "expelled," as heretofore.

Section 1 of Rule 18, regarding the power of postponement, was cut out and the fol-lowing rule substituted: "In case of unfavorable weather or other unavoidable cause members shall postpone to a definite hour on the next fair day and good track (omitting Sunday) all stakes and purses closed on the installment plan on giving notice thereof, and they may exercise the power before or after the race has commenced. Any purse race, except those closed on the installment plan, that has not been started by 5 o'clock p. m. on the last day of the week the number has limited its meeting during the months of May, June, July and August, or 4 p. m. during the balance of the year, shall be declared off and the entrance money refunded. Any purse race that has been started and remains unfinished on the last day of the week to which the number has imited its meeting shall be declared divided according to summary.

Several unimportant changes were made in Rules 19, 20, 24, 27 and a portion of Section 1 of Rule 28, regarding the powers and duties of judges, was stricken out. This portion referred to the judges being prepared to take the time of each heat in the race or the appointment of a suitable person to so assist them. Slight changes were made in Sections 3 and 4 of this rule. There was an objection on the part of Dr. Day, of Waterford, N. Y., over the manner in which owners are taxed at this port for shipment for certificates of registration on the horses shipped, and he succeeded in getting an amendment through authorizing the president to appoint five inspectors to hereafter examine and issue certificates for horses shipped.
Rule, 32, Section 2, regarding dead heats, was changed to read: "When two or more with an Electric Saddle. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 12.-This was the seventieth day of the Crescent City Jockey Club's winter meeting. The following official ruling was promulgated this afternoon: "No evidence having been found that jockey D. Hennessey used or attempted to use for fraudulent purposes the electric saddie owned by Charles Tichenor, and as M. J. owners, were evidently not implicated in the attempted use of the saddle, both are hereby reinstated. A person known as M. B. or Charles Tichenor is ruled off the turf for bringing onto the grounds of the club an implement of swindling, called an electric saddle, for the purpose of defrauding the patrons of the track and for confederating with and aiding and abetting the said Tichenor in his effort to get a jockey to ise the electric saddle for the purpose of defrauding the patrons of this club, and to their own gain, and for having used the saddle on horses at exercise to see if the same would increase their speed and enhance their chances of winning, all of which was done with a fraudulent intent. Nate Hill, jockey, is also ruled off the turf, and for procuring the said Tichenor a badge of facilitated his efforts to put the electric the Chicago Gas Trust. > Starting Machine Tried Again. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.-The Aus-

purpose of the said Tichenor, English

trallan starting machine was used in both of the mile races at Ingleside to-day, and the start in each instance was perfect, the horses being at the post fifty seconds in the first event and two minutes in the next. Should the machine prove as successful with the two-year-olds as has been the case with the older horses the Pacific Coast Jockey Club will use the machine permanently in the future. There were over twelve thousand people in attendance today, the weather being perfect and the occasion being ladies' day. The "iron horse," Logan, was started again to-day, and, although he ran a game race, Naglee Burke's colt Bellicose, who was in light, proved too much for him. The Burke colt was a hot favorite at 3 to 5. The closest inish of the day was between Ed Kearney and Red Glenn. Kearney apparently had the race won, but Lamley went to sleep on him and allowed Red Glenn to nose him out. "Pittsburg Phil" played his horse heavily at 4 to 1. Three favorites, two secand and one third choice were the winners.

C. PENNSYLVANIA ST. JAPANESE TORTURED

MANY HORRIBLY MUTILATED AND THEIR HEADS CUT OFF.

Portions of the Bodies Eaten by the Cannibals of Formosa-Prisoners Burned at the Stake.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb 12.-Dreadful stories come from Yokohama of the treatment of Japanese by Formosa rebels, some correspondents going so far as to say that the Chinese practice cannibalism. Early in January the rebels took possession of the village of Kelung. A detachment of Japanese was sent to attack the place, and, after considerable opposition, succeeded in driving the rebels off and entering the village, which was afterward fired. The correspondent of the Japan Mail, in speaking of the arrival of the Japanese troops in the village, says: "The troops were horrified at the ghastly spectacle of nineteen bodies of their countrymen beheaded and frightfully mangled. They were rallway workmen, who had met death at the hands of the fiends. Many of your readers may not be aware of the cannibalism that exists among the Chinese, although there is probably not a foreigner in Formosa but knows of the eating of portions of the bodies by savages, or are unaware of the markets in Formosan settlements containing human flesh of savages for sale. During the outbreak of 1891 so great was the loss of life that savage flesh was brought in and sold the same as pork in the markets. The mutilated bodies of Japanese were found, several of them disemboweled and with their hearts cut out also minus their parts. Some were found who had been burned at the stake; charred bodies with hands and feet still fastened were some of the spectacles the soldiers
